Diversity marks religious life. Brother Paul, new principal at Stanislaus, has served many different positions as a Brother of the Sacred Heart. In his career, Brother Paul has taught Spanish, English, religion, and social studies, served as guidance counselor, and moderated both newspaper and yearbook staffs. Before coming to Stanislaus, Brother Paul was principal at E. D. White High School in Thibodaux, Louisiana.

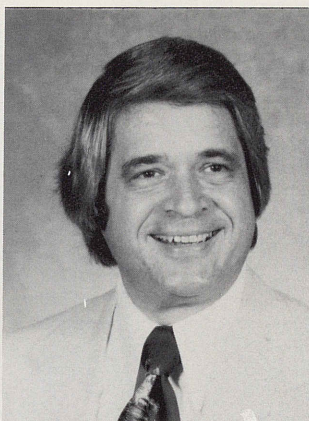

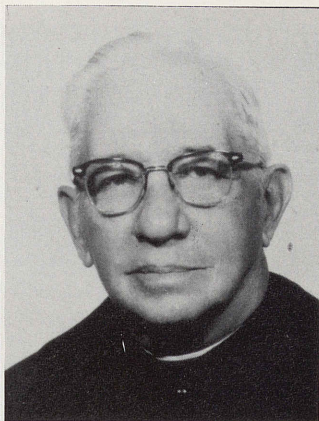

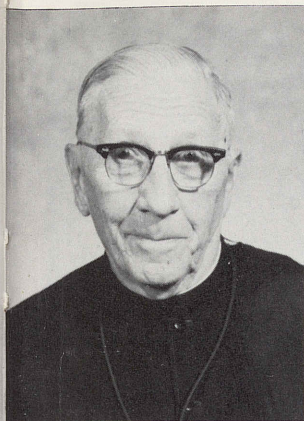

Brother Paul's interests are varied. While participating in faculty-student softball and basketball games, his favorite sport is tennis. Many students seeing Brother Paul on the back courts have challenged him to a match. Brother Paul also likes the outdoors. During the summer and on long holidays, he sets time aside to retreat to the mountains or woods.

Though the change from a co-ed school to an all-boys school is difficult, Brother Paul's hard work and enthusiasm have made the transition easier.

In Memoriam

For fifty-one years Brother Augustine served God as a Brother of the Sacred Heart. Born in Indiana, Brother taught in schools in Brooklyn, Metuchen, Far Rockaway, Mobile, New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and Donaldsonville. Since 1971 Brother Augustine has worked at Stanislaus as bookkeeper. Students paying tuition or buying school supplies found Brother Augustine a friendly person, always ready to listen to a story. The Stanislaus community will remember Brother Augustine for the cheerfulness and good humor he showed throughout his days with us.

Brother Cyr has worked hand-in-hand the last two years with Mr. Williams helping the Rock-a-Chaw band win numerous awards. Bay St. Louis is only the most recent stop for this Canadian Brother from the Rimuski Province. While Brother Cyr was born in Massachusetts, he was educated in Canada, and has taught in Canada and Australia, and now Mississippi.

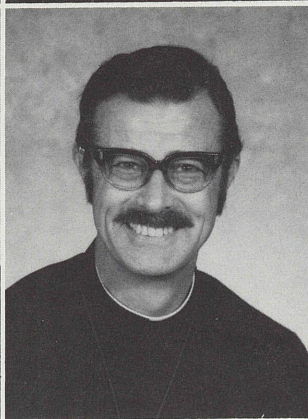

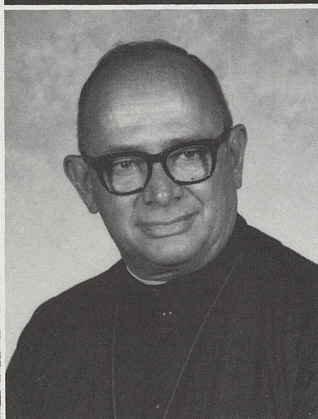

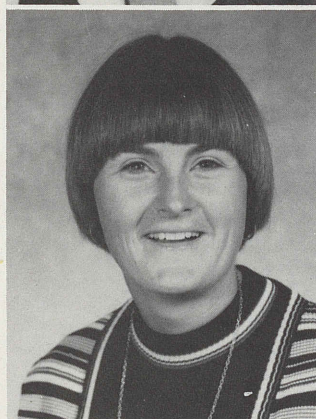

Comparing his nine years of band instruction in Australia with his Stanislaus experience, Brother Cyr mentioned basic differences in the school systems. In Australia Brother was one of fourteen brothers in a school of 1100 students. The school year in Australia ran from Feb. 3 to Dec. 18th, as winter in Australia is summer in Mississippi. Brother also found communication often difficult in Australia, as he had 19 different nationalities in his classes. When asked to compare students in Australia with those in the United States, Brother Cyr remained neutral, although he did complement Stanislaus band students on their "hard work" and "discipline."

With the departure of Barry Jones at the end of the '76 school year, Brother Lee named assistant coach, Bill Poole, to head the Rock-a-Chaw football team. Working with linemen at Stanislaus for the last 5 years, Coach Poole had little trouble adapting to his new position.

Immediately after finishing his first season, (5-5), Coach Poole initiated an intense off-season football program. Poole believes the weightlifting and theory classes will prove invaluable in upcoming years.

Football is not Coach Poole's only extra curricular activity. In past years Poole has coached the golf team; this year he has combined resources with Howard Patton to coach varsity track.

Building a new gym and PE complex is a tremendous undertaking. Brother Aquin as director of public relations and fund raising plays a vital role in this project. Traveling from Bay St. Louis to cities all over the South, Brother Aquin visits alumni and parents of students carrying news of St. Stanislaus, while promoting expansion plans for the school.

As alumni director Brother Aquin organizes and directs the Alumni Association and its many activities, ranging from Homecoming to the "Hall of Fame Inductions." Brother Aquin's many efforts took visible form throughout 1977 as the new PE complex steadily rose from the "backfield" area.

Serving as school physician for over 33 years, Doctor Wolfe has become a Stanislaus legend. Doc's presence is felt everywhere around the school. On the football field his miracle cures have kept Rock-a-Chaw football players in many games. In the school infirmary, Doc's bedside manner is somewhat less than gentle, but his casting, stitching, and general diagnosis are never questioned.

A 1932 graduate of Tulane Medical School, Doc Wolfe is an enthusiastic sports fan. He is present at most Stanislaus athletic events offering a helping hand when needed, and a running comment at all times. Doc is also a volatile Tulane supporter.

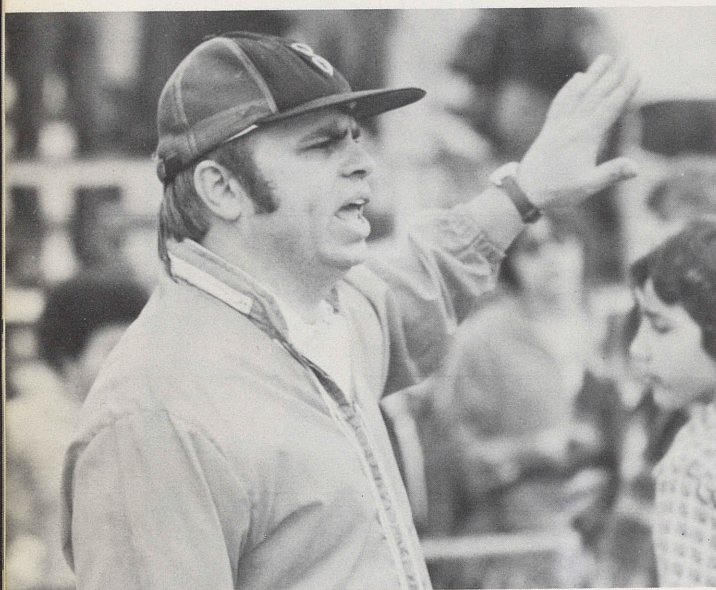

Stanislaus acknowledged Doctor Wolfe's efforts in 1973 by inducting him into the school "Hall of Fame."

Retirement generally means slowing down. Brother Canisius changed this idea with his diverse projects throughout the school year. Retiring from the reading department after 48 years in the classroom, Brother Canisius immediately began organizing and coordinating activities ranging from work with handicapped children, to visits to elderly people at nursing homes.

In the summer of '76, Brother Canisius began his work with "Project Do" in New Orleans. Returning to Stanislaus he has spent the last two years involving Stanislaus and OLA students in various "help projects" at special schools and rest homes in the local area. The people of Bay St. Louis and the Stanislaus community have benefited from the activities of this "retired" Brother of the Sacred Heart.

Being a Senior . . .

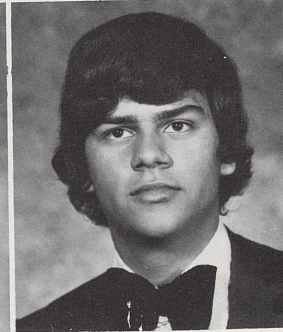

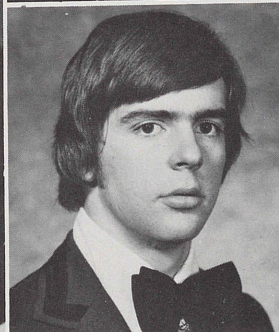

To be a senior is to stand on the dividing line between two worlds — the carefree world of a high school student, and the new world of responsibility as an adult. The senior year is a time for celebration in the form of parties, dances, and the prom, as well as a time for assuming school leadership and responsibilities. It is a time for remembering, for taking stock of a high school career, and for setting new goals for the next stage of life. In short the senior year is a complex mixture of emotions; joy and relief with the thought that "it's all over," and a little uncertainty with the realization that, really, it's only just begun.

PAUL BROWN

Paul Brown, the most distinguished all-around athlete of the year, entered St. Stanislaus at the end of the 8th grade. Coming from a large family in N.O., Paul has succeeded in achieving athletic records with some of his amazing statistics.

Although he is well versed in all sports, Paul's main interest lies in basketball. His career began in the 9th grade and has been carried out through his senior year. During this time Paul has played on one of the best Rock-a-Chaw Basketball teams. This was the '75 season during his sophomore year. At forward position he led the Rocks through a winning season his senior year and finished with an amazing total of over 1000 points and 1000 rebounds.

Even with his busy schedule, sometimes beginning at 6 a.m. with a little practice before school, he still has time for extracurricular activities. Paul credits much of his success to Coach Cucaro and hopes to use his talent for playing college ball.

CARL SCHOTT

Carl Schott has shown just what an outstanding student at St. Stanislaus can be. Ever since the seventh grade, he has maintained a 4.0 average. His school activities include the National Honor Society, of which he is president, Spanish Honor Society, the President's Honor Roll, RLSCG, and intramurals. While in the band he played the flute to achieve awards of Mississippi All State Band, Mid-South Honor Band, and Superior at the State Solo Contest. Some of his hobbies are photography, automobile mechanics, and the Sky Hawks where he gained a solo this year.

When Carl leaves St. Stanislaus he plans to enter into the field of engineering. The faculty and student body will remember him as a superior upperclassman and fellow student.

STEVE TREUTEL

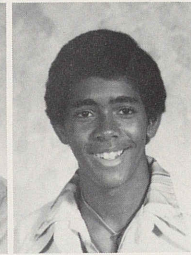

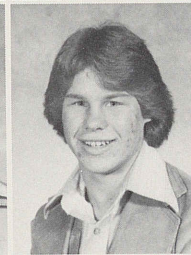

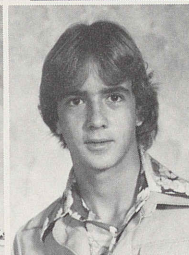

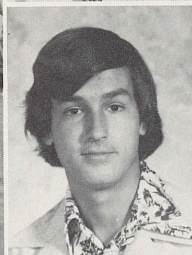

Weightlifting and music occupy extreme ends of the "activities scale" at SSC. Steven Treutel works equally hard at both activities, and produces equally notable results. Steve draws parallels between weightlifting and band competition. "Unlike many activities, opposing participants in band and weightlifting pull for their competition creating unity between competitors."

At the '77 Mississippi Powerlift Meet, Steve accomplished his greatest weightlifting to date, a 405 lb. deadlift which earned for him the classification of 2nd class lifter. Steve is presently working toward a 3 lift total of 1030 lbs., a 1st class lifter status. This year Steve also earned an honorable mention at the Lyons Band Competition.

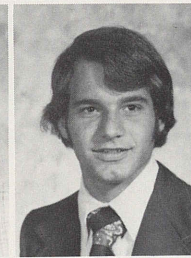

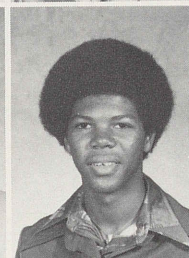

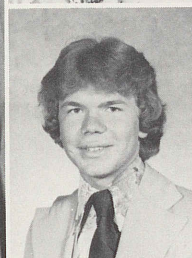

Although Steve enjoys both activities, he cites music as his first choice. "Music is something you can carry with you throughout your life. Weightlifting peaks at 28 or 29, but there is no age limitation for music."

JAY ROUSSEAU

How could a student with lots of ideas and plenty of energy help other students at SSC? Jay Rousseau answered the question by running for student council president. Rock-a-Chaw underclassmen responded to Jay's enthusiasm with tremendous support, electing him in a landslide.

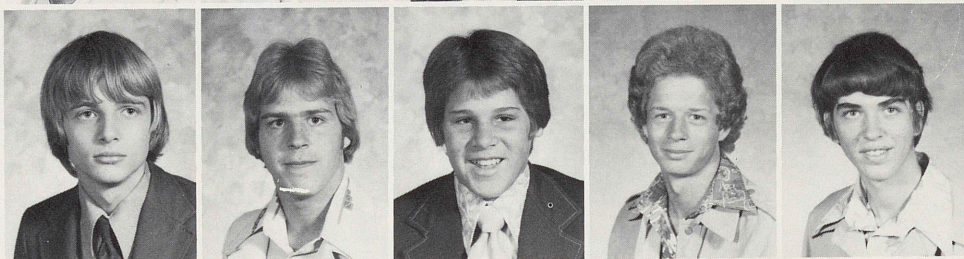

Jay would like to see more activities for the underclassmen. "Involving 9th and 10th graders in dance planning and homecoming projects would make them feel more a part of SSC." Some of Jay's other ideas are a student directory, an outing for parents at open classroom sessions, and a detailed student council bulletin to make all students aware of school activities.

School involvement is a key word for Jay Rousseau. Only time will tell whether Jay has been an effective president, but if good will and hard work are the determining factors, students should look for a very active student council in '78.

HENRY WHITE

Not many Stanislaus students come from Itta Beana, Mississippi. In fact, very few people at SSC even know Itta Beana exists. Seminarian Henry White may soon change that! Coming to Stanislaus as an unknown freshman, Henry has gained recognition for his band and drama talent as well as his singing ability.

Henry is part of the award winning percussion section in the band. Oddly enough he prefers playing the cymbals over other instruments. "People think it takes nothing to crash the cymbals, but it really is an art; you can play many different sounds on the cymbals."

Henry has also taken part in three major productions, the most recent being the passion play, SEARCH, at St. Augustine's Seminary. Henry is surprised a school the size of Stanislaus doesn't have a more active drama club. In his words, "You can involve many different kinds of kids in an active drama club. Drama offers an alternative for those students who don't want to play sports." Henry hopes to help improve this area of SSC in coming years.

Tennis has become one of the most popular pastimes around the SSC campus. Tommy Wild's tennis interest began at age 13; his hours of practice since then paid off in '77 as he led the tennis team to a third undefeated season.

Although Tommy has competed in football and basketball, he has chosen to forego the others so he can improve his tennis. "Tennis lets me be an individual. When I do something wrong, it's because of me, no one else. If I want to get better, all I have to do is push myself."

Tommy predicts a bright future for the SSC tennis team. "We've done everything the past three years but win district. We've got a young team, and next year will be our year." Tommy's plans call for competitive tennis around the state this summer to help him prepare for the '78 season.

SCOTT COX

Very few freshmen crack the varsity baseball lineup. Needless to say, even fewer pitch varsity baseball. Scott Cox did both this season — and raised some eyebrows doing it. Scott posted a 7-4 record, best on the team. His earned run average (3.49) and his overall hustle earned him the honor of "most valuable player."

Scott believes this season and its awards will help motivate him to work harder. He plans on working on his baseball throughout the summer playing in the Babe Ruth League. Scott assessed the team's season saying, "I enjoyed playing ball for SSC because of the team spirit. The senior players were particularly helpful. Next year I hope to better my record and help the team take conference honors."

BUDDY BROWN

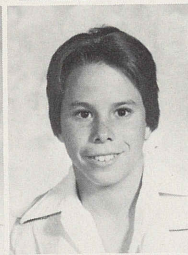

Skateboarding is very popular around the SSC campus. Buddy Brown, 3rd place winner in last year's skateboarding contest, returned to Stanislaus in Sept. and quickly earned the reputation as the best Rock-a-Chaw skateboarder for '77. Throughout the summer Buddy worked on improving his skateboard skills. This year he can readily do "nose wheelies," turn 360's, and perform handstands on his board.

Buddy found handstands the most difficult maneuver to learn. "I can't do handstands on the floor, so I had to learn to shift my weight on the board to keep my balance." Buddy would like to ride the sides of a pool for his next trick. "I was going to try once, but it rained and filled the pool before I had a chance." Buddy plans to learn more skateboard maneuvers this summer as well as master his 6 foot unicycle.

JUAN BETANZOS

Coming to the United States from Mexico, Juan Betanzos has adapted to American ways. Although many times Juan would rather be going to school at home, he sees value in learning English and finds boarding at SSC a good teacher.

In his two years at SSC, Juan has involved himself in football, basketball, and track. Juan called on his soccer skills for 8th grade football, kicking 1 field goal and numerous extra points during the season. He also played forward on the 8th grade basketball team winning for his efforts "most valuable defensive player." Commenting on his athletic career Juan says, "I really like track most because I participate in so many different events." Juan ran the 100 and 220 yd. dashes, and the 440, 880, mile, and sprint relays.

Looking back on the year, Juan is ready to go home for the summer taking an American friend with him on a water skiing vacation to Acapulco.

MARC MEYER

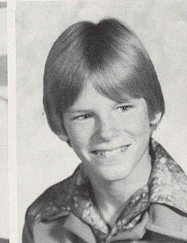

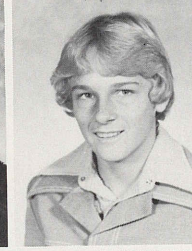

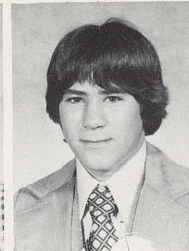

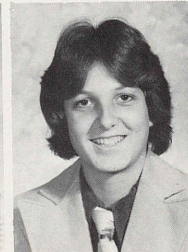

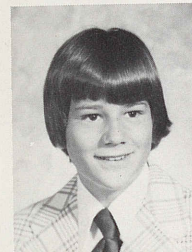

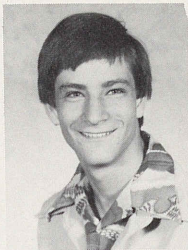

Occupying free time is not a problem for Marc Meyer. Marc put his sports skills to use, playing cornerback on the 8th grade football team, pole vaulting for the junior high track team, and playing guard on the basketball team.

Marc enjoyed basketball over the other sports because he "didn't have to use all kinds of bulky equipment," and because the basketball team played a longer season, 11 games. Marc cited Bro. Anton's wrist exercises for helping him improve his shooting form, a major accomplishment this season. Marc would like to play JV basketball next year because he finds "competing with the older kids is more challenging."

The coming months hold many surprises for Marc, whose mother is planning to move to the Virgin Islands. After spending his summer weightlifting and playing basketball, Marc hopes to return to SSC . . . "I want to play basketball. I couldn't imagine myself playing cricket in the Virgin Islands."

KEN FRANCE

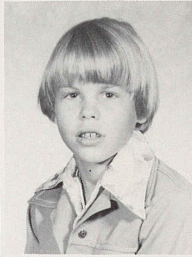

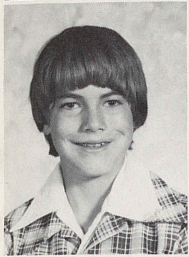

Rarely does a 7th grader progress enough to play in the SSC marching band. Ken France is an exception! His 2 hours of practice a day paid off as he merited a starting position in the marching band for the D'Iberville football game. Since then, Ken has participated in 3 band concerts, the Christmas Concert, and the Spring Concert.

Ken began playing the flute 2 years ago at St. Louis King of Christ school in New Orleans. Although the band takes up much of his free time, Ken is determined to perfect his flute playing. In addition to the flute, Ken also plays the piano and the organ. Looking ahead he would like to eventually study music in college. His hard work as a 7th grader may one day help him realize that goal.

JOSE SEGOVIA

"I've spent my year at Stanislaus learning English and making American friends." So says Jose Segovia, 7th grade boarder in Brother Raymond's dorm whose home is Pueblo, Mexico. Although Jose found school work difficult with the language barrier, he enjoyed SSC because of his many new friendships.

Jose liked many American sports, among them football and slaughterball. However, playing the guitar has long been Jose's favorite pastime. He first learned from his uncle in Mexico, and later took lessons for two years. Before leaving Mexico, Jose was a member of a touring folk group.

One of Jose's friends will return to Mexico with him in June for a short visit. Jose says, "I will show him Mexico as Americans have shown me their country."

Religion at SSC . . .

Religion holds a unique place in the Stanislaus curriculum. Every student at SSC takes religion every year. Religion is not an academic subject; rather it is designed to help students get to know themselves and their faith better. Attempting to carry out Christ's message, the religion curriculum stresses basic human values. The religion teacher helps students recognize their talents and encourages them to use these to help others. The Stanislaus Social Service Program and the Confraternity of the Sacred Heart grew from this concept. In 1977 over 100 students took part in these projects using their time and talents to help the elderly and the needy in the Bay St. Louis area.

Religion is also designed to give students a more personal view of their faith. Examining specific areas of Christ's teachings helps students come closer to the Christian way of life. Students were urged in '77 not only to offer their time in service programs, but also to offer themselves in Eucharistic celebrations. Homerooms planned "class Masses" on a regular basis, and several times the entire student body came together to pray as a community.

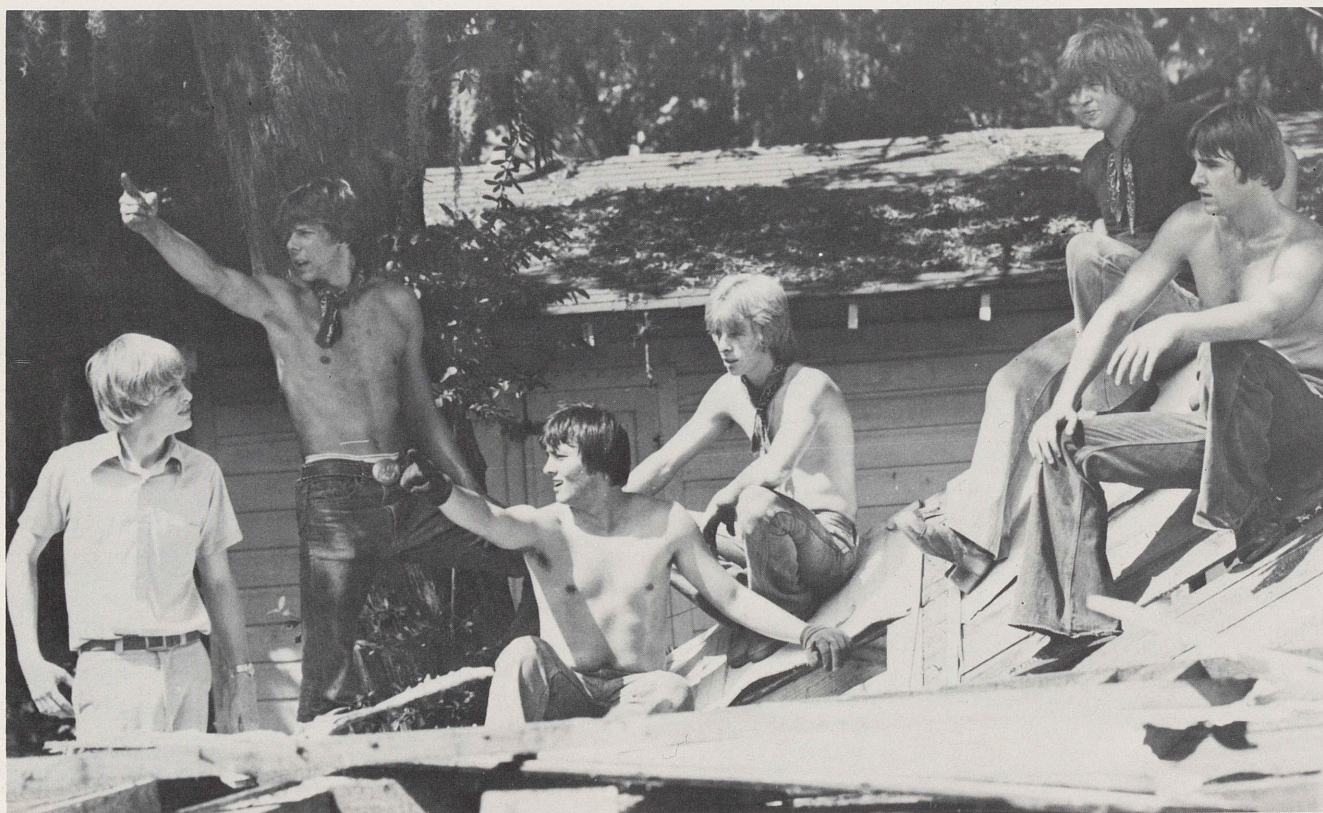

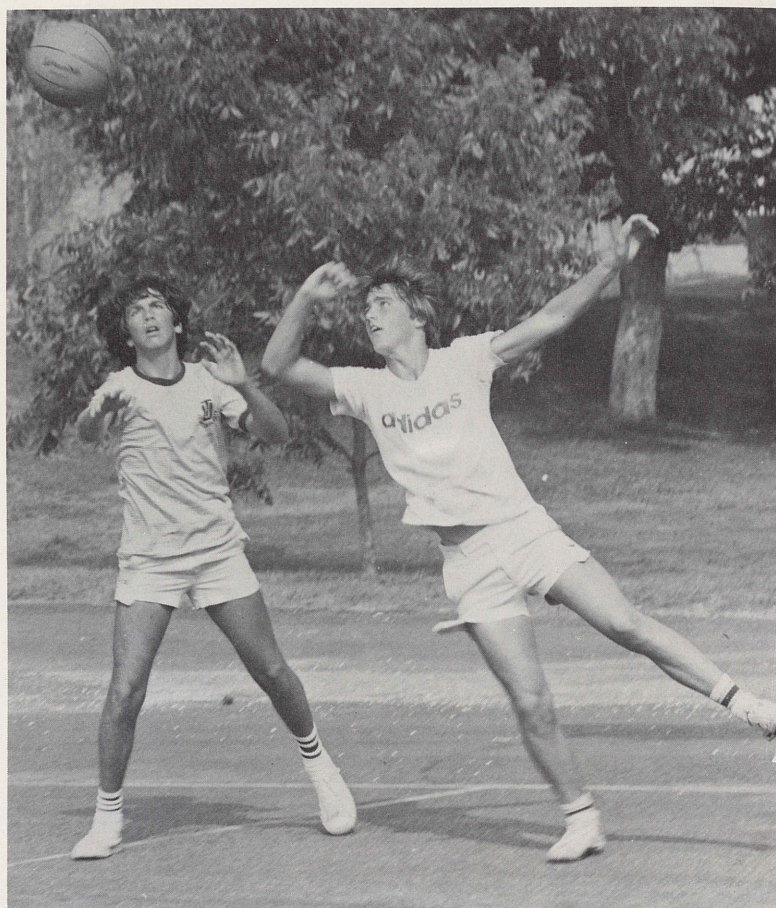

B. Joseph's Dorm

Boarding in Bro. Joseph's dorm presupposes activity. Bro. Joseph offers junior and senior boarders more freedom and privileges than they've experienced in past years.

Resident students in section C-D may bring cars on campus and use them when needed. Moreover, Bro. Joseph allows them to stay out on weekends til midnight; boarders may also eat weekday meals off campus.

Students living in Bro. Joseph's dorm experience many opportunities to work, both with "things" and with "people." Senior and junior boarders spear-headed the Kidney Fund Drive during the year. They collected over a thousand dollars; senior Mike Logan directed the winning team.

Bro. Joseph also organized a work crew. Their projects ranged from replacing washers of faucets in the dormitory to the demolition of a house. Bro. Joseph has gained a reputation for keeping his boarders involved working around the school.

B. Paul's Dorm

Brother Paul Mulligan has the formidable task of prefecting forty-five sophomores in the dorm. Brother Paul strongly encourages boarders in his dorm to participate in extra curricular activities, and this year they did. Many sophomores involved themselves in organized athletics, intramurals, and the band. Brother William Chester acted as assistant prefect throughout the year taking Brother Paul's place when he was off campus.

An end-of-the-year beach barbecue capped the activities of the sophomore dorm. Brother Paul took the entire dorm to Henderson Point for volleyball, water activities, and a barbecue. The following night Brother Paul gave out the dorm awards for the year. Tony Fasullo won the dorm's highest award, the character cup. Moe Hudson merited the character award, and Billy Babst was awarded the conduct plaque.

B. John's Dorm

Brother John heads up the 60 members of the freshman dorm. Since he dropped his Spanish classes this year, Brother John has had more time during the day to spend counseling his boarders. Serving as a Brother of the Sacred Heart for 12 years, Brother has taught at Brother Martin High School in New Orleans, and McGill High School in Mobile. Brother enjoys perfecting over teaching because in his words, "as a prefect I am able to help some young men to grow, become better students, and desire to become something better for themselves. I like the feeling I get when I see a young man succeed through hard work and effort."

Brother John characterizes the '77 freshman dorm as, "the most active dorm I've ever had." No matter how much homework the freshmen have they still find time for football, basketball, intramurals, and swimming.

The freshman rec hall has a stereo, two televisions, pool tables, foosball tables, and ping pong tables. After school and in the evenings, these are put to continual use.

B. Neri's Dorm

Bro. Neri has been here at St. Stanislaus now for the past 7 years. During this time he has gained the respect from both students and faculty. Before coming to Stanislaus, Bro. Neri was stationed as an assistant prefect in Omaha and many other cities around the U.S. Working as a prefect is a great responsibility. "Looking after 45 boys is difficult, but it has its rewards," commented Bro. Neri. Brother also teaches courses in English for 8th grade students. During his time after school he enjoys a game of baseball, flag football, or volleyball with the boys in his dorm.

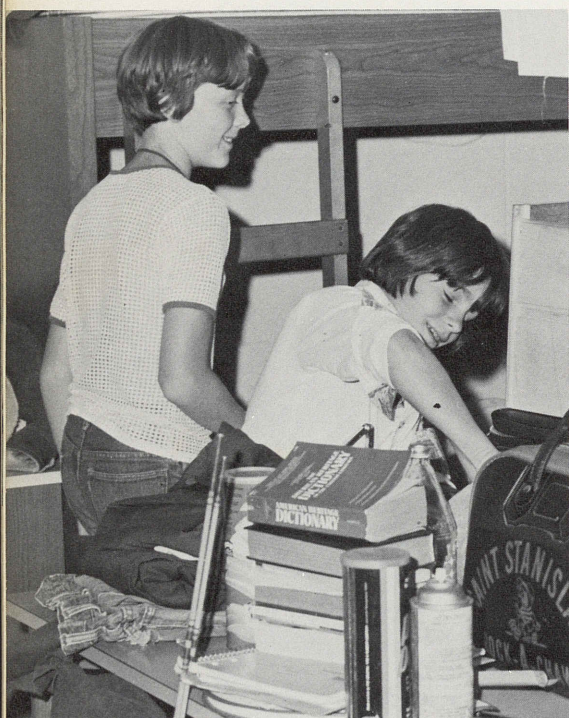

This is Bro. Neri's last year as a prefect at St. Stanislaus. Next year he will be the new athletic director at Catholic High. Although he has mixed feelings about leaving he said, "At his age it's nice to have a change of pace."

B. Ray's Dorm . . .

What goes on in section B? This is a very tough question to answer because of all the things that go on in the dorm. Brother Raymond directs activities in the 6th and 7th grade dorm. Having worked at the Boys' Home in Mobile, Brother Raymond had experience with boys before becoming a prefect 9 years ago. Brother Raymond's goal as a prefect is to see people happy and to make school happier for the boys in his dorm.

Brother Raymond believes keeping boys busy is the way to make them happy. He organizes and referees sports every day after school. Boarders in section B play football, basketball, hockey, soccer and slaughterball. This year, Brother Raymond introduced ceramics to many of the boys in his dorm. After supper boarders could work on scraping and painting ceramic projects. Brother Raymond's activities kept most of his 60 boarders busy throughout the school year.

FEATURES SECTION . . . Though many "special" things happened in '77, the REFLECTIONS Staff decided to "feature" in more detail the most unique of these events. The following pages will give a closer look at: Brother Paul, our new principal; the building of Brother Peter Memorial Gym; the first yearbook contest at SSC in recent years; and the passion play, SEARCH.

Brother Paul . . .

Each year new faces come and go at SSC. Brother Paul came on the Rock-a-Chaw scene in May and his administration lasted but one year. In this year, however, he did much to bring the faculty closer together and make life at Stanislaus more enjoyable for the students. Brother Paul took part in our year fully . . . from observing in the classroom, to teaching classes, to speaking at assemblies, to playing games in the backfield. Students and faculty will miss his presence around Stanislaus in September.

Skyhawks . . .

In its second year of existence, the Skyhawks, moderated by Brother Noel, is a flying club with its base at Stennis International. The purpose of the club is to present the students with the theory and practice necessary for them to eventually complete their solo flight. Next year the Skyhawks will become an elective where a student can earn credit for his endeavors.

New Gym Becomes Reality

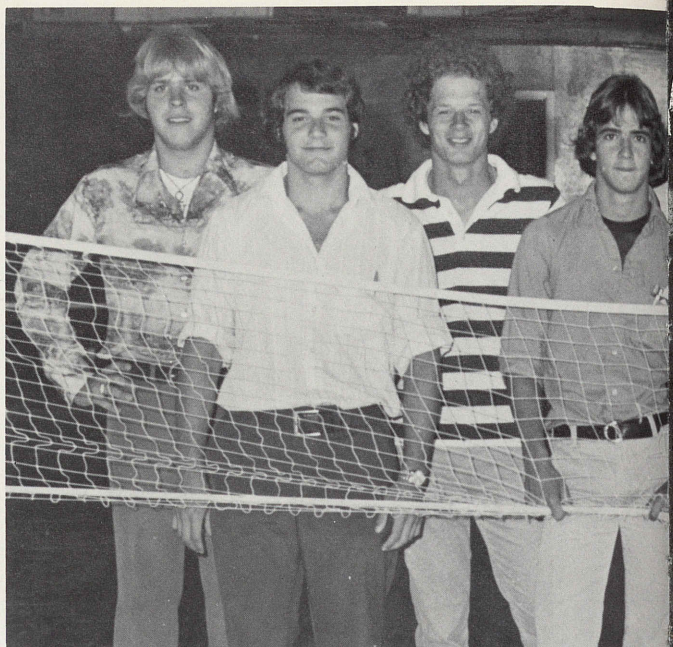

The Brother Peter Memorial Gym due for completion in mid-summer will provide many opportunities for students. The greater space and more adequate dressing area will open new horizons to the PE program; there will be room for gymnastics, badminton, basketball, and volleyball. Coach Boh says, "The new gym will help us offer students a more diversified physical education program."

Basketball, a major sport at SSC, is the most obvious activity to benefit from the gym. There will be six practice goals instead of two, and a capacity of 1400 spectators, over twice as much as the old gym. The money for the gym was raised by donations from alumni, parents, and friends of the school. The finished building will cost around $800,000. The architect is Mr. Fred Wagner, and the contractor is Perrilliat-Rickey Construction Co.

"Search" Explores Christ's Passion

SEARCH was a musical-drama production based on a search for a foundation of man's belief in God. The production was presented by the seminarians of St. Augustine's Seminary, who are also members of the St. Stanislaus student body.

In order to make this play a success, every member of the production had to cooperate fully. Time and time again the staff was reminded that this was their play which had a special message for the audience. Directors Gerry Leonard and Mel Virgil said, "Every person and everything that was used in the play had a meaning. Song and dance played as much a part as the acting did because it helped bind the scenes together." The costumes for the production, though not elegant, brought out the characters being portrayed.

The seminarians felt the play was given to put forth a special message. As one seminarian put it, "It shows my belief in God is worth 'searching' for."

Band Improves Throughout Year

The '77 band marched in 10 football games and 3 parades, the Nereids Parade, the Veteran's Day Parade, and the Krew of Mardi Gras Parade in Metairie, Louisiana. The band also entered 3 "marching contests," showing steady rating improvement in each. At the Gulf Coast Marching Contest the band received a rating of "good." The Picayune Festival followed, and the band earned an "excellent" rating; finally, in the State Marching Festival, in Clinton, Mississippi, the band received a "superior" in marching and inspection. Mr. Williams, the band director, praised the band members' efforts saying, "I am very pleased with the band's performance. They never gave up." With only seven graduating seniors in the '77 marching band, Mr. Williams looks forward to more improvement next year.

Through the efforts of Brother Anton, band moderator, and many parents of band members, next year's band will take the field with a "new" look. New uniforms have been designed and ordered by Mr. Williams, and will arrive for the opening of the '78 season.

Spring Concert Offers Variety

The Spring Awards Concert featured contrasting musical styles, ranging from lively marches to a choral arrangement designed to involve the audience. The flute program offered enough variety to please any listener. Carl Schott, making his debut as student director, conducted "God of Our Fathers." Anne Rosata shared student conducting honors, leading the band in a George Gershwin arrangement.

This year the band featured a percussion sextet which received a superior rating in the state contest this year. The members were Henry White (tympani), Helene Hille (snare drum), Scott Settoon (cymbals), Roberta McIntyre (triangle), Mo Hudson (basedrum), and Alvarez Hertzock (bells).

The Student Council was active in many areas of student life throughout the year. The Student Council sponsored many student activities such as dances, assemblies, L.W.A.S., Lost and Found, and intramurals.

"Fantasy Park" served as the theme for the 1977 Junior-Senior Prom. Music was provided by Louisiana Lightning. Student Council officers and student volunteers decorated the West Side Community Center in Gulfport and took care of clear-up operations as well. The concentrated Student Council efforts made the Prom run smoothly.

Officers for '76-'77 were Lee Eymard, president; Frank Sagnibene, vice president; Jay Rousseau, 2nd vice president; Tommy Lotz, secretary; Peter Bernheim, treasurer.

Sideline Club Improves Field

Composed of 96 members, the Sideline Club works to keep Rock-a-Chaw stadium and the playing field in ship shape. Projects for this year included construction of a new, enlarged pressbox, replacing the small, out-dated one of previous years; re-sodding the football field with a new grass called Tifway 419, which will not clump together as the old grass did; and installation of an automatic sprinkler system underneath the playing surface. The projected cost of all these items is about $9,000.

In order to raise necessary funds, the club sponsored 2 raffles, a Turkey Shoot, the annual fair, and various other projects. Officers this year were Harry Bowes, president, A. Trapani, vice president, and L. Haverty, vice president.

Last Minute Win Paces Homecoming

A high-spirited pep rally kicked off the '76 Homecoming festivities with interclass competition in various events. The students rallied around their contestants in the tug-of-war, balloon toss, and beauty contest.

Before the Homecoming game, the queen and her court motorcaded through the streets of Bay St. Louis in decorated cars. The students showed unparalleled enthusiasm in the pre-game activities which climaxed in the final moments of the game. With the help of the wildly screaming crowd, the Rocks came alive and drove seventy yards to upset the previously undefeated Hawks 13-9.

With a record attendance the Homecoming dance was a great success. As MG Funk played that "funky" music, the long hours of preparation for this occasion seemed worthwhile.

Homecoming Honors Becky

On October 1, 1976, St. Stanislaus held its annual Homecoming Week. The Homecoming Court, selected by the senior football players, highlighted the festivities. Queen Becky Benvenuti, a senior at Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, reigned over the court. Her court included Miss Fran Sallinger, Miss Lisa Stevens, Miss Tracy Belle and Miss Camie Kellum, all of Our Lady's Academy.

The Homecoming game climaxed a day of student enthusiasm which saw the Rocks upset the previously undefeated Hancock North Central Hawks. At halftime the Homecoming court was presented to the capacity crowd.

LWAS, Yearbook

Excite Students

The yearbook staff, headed by Brother Peter, worked to involve more students this year. Thirty students contributed in some way to the photography, design, copy, or artwork in REFLECTIONS. Increased student participation spearheaded enthusiasm for the yearbook drive. 425 students ordered yearbooks, an increase of 140 subscriptions over last year. The yearbook staff labored long into May to complete REFLECTIONS '77. The staff hopes enthusiasm for the yearbook will lead toward continued student involvement in future years.

Another outstanding vehicle for keeping students in touch with the school was the "Last Week At Stanislaus" board. Under the direction of Ollo Mollere the L.W.A.S. staff was never at a loss for interesting and informative displays. Whether it be on the conference track meet or the school, the L.W.A.S. board always attracted a crowd of curious students.

Summer Camps Help Cheering

O.L.A. cheerleaders Becky Benevenuti, Lori Johnson, Julie Martinolich, Fran Sallinger, and Suzie Kergosien, combined with S.S.C. partners Donald Tighe, Alan Sansovich, Danny Gurtner, Lee Eymard, and Gerry Hudson, led the cheering at basketball and football games this season. Students from O.L.A. and S.S.C. underwent rigorous tryout sessions, first in front of the student body of O.L.A., then in front of an adult board at S.S.C. before being selected.

Although the '77 cheerleaders enjoyed the job this year, many of them thought the cheerleaders should participate in more activities. As Fran Sallinger said, "We should have a bigger and better advertised Homecoming Week." Suzie Kergosien added, "We should have new uniforms." As for cheerleading camp, they feel it helped them relate closer with members of their squad, and it helped them become physically in shape. Camp also introduced new tricks to their act, and made them feel important. They have another camp this summer from July 18-22.

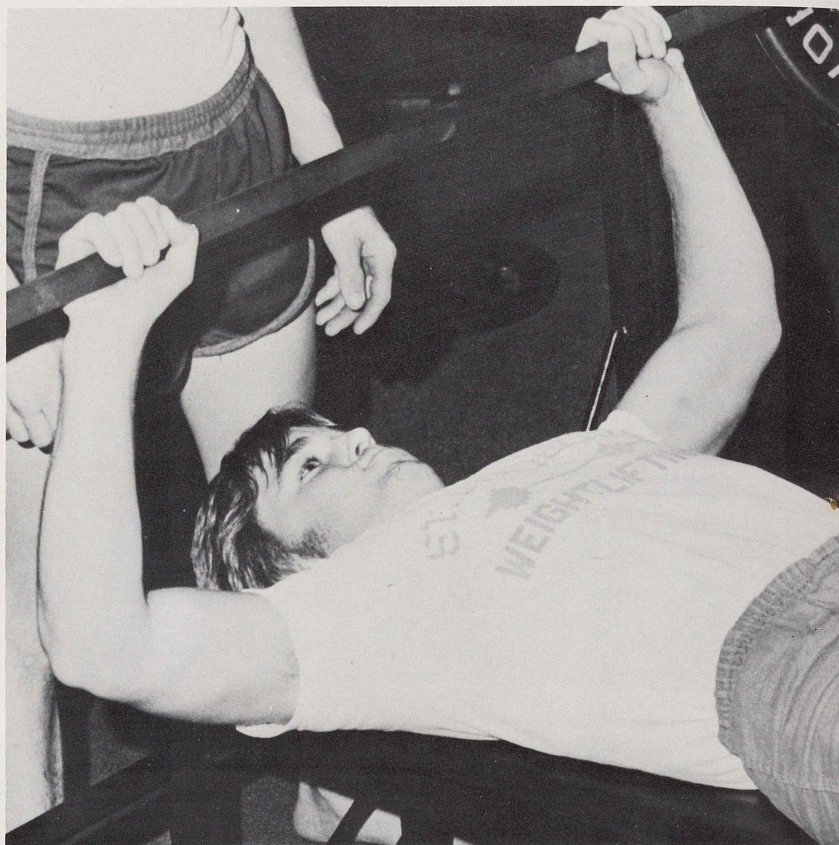

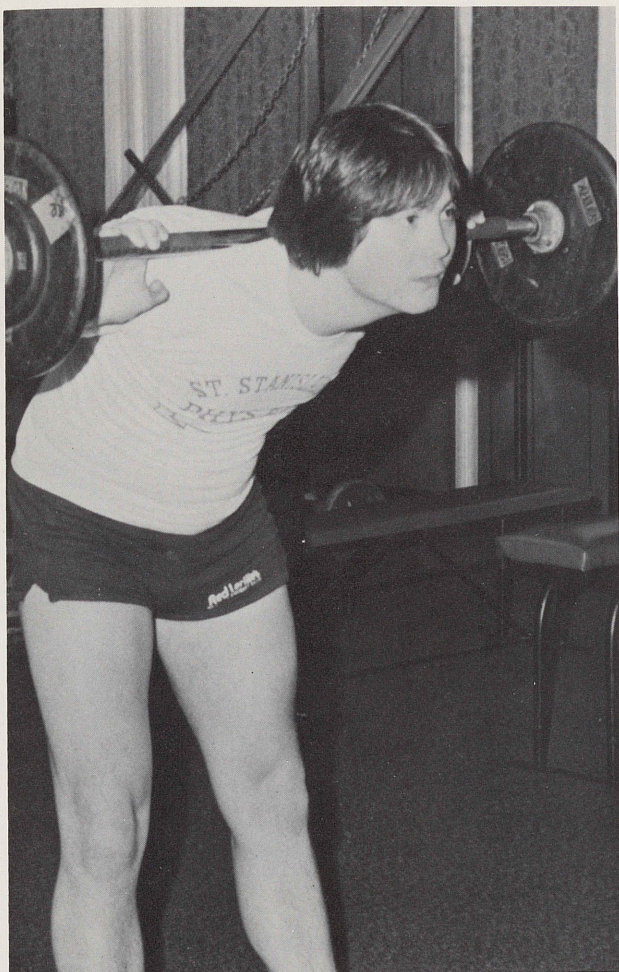

SSWLC Expansion Continues

"A sound mind and a sound body" may just be a cliché to most people but in the St. Stanislaus Weightlifting Club it takes on new meaning. Headed by Brother Bennet the club has helped many students develop good physical and mental physiques.

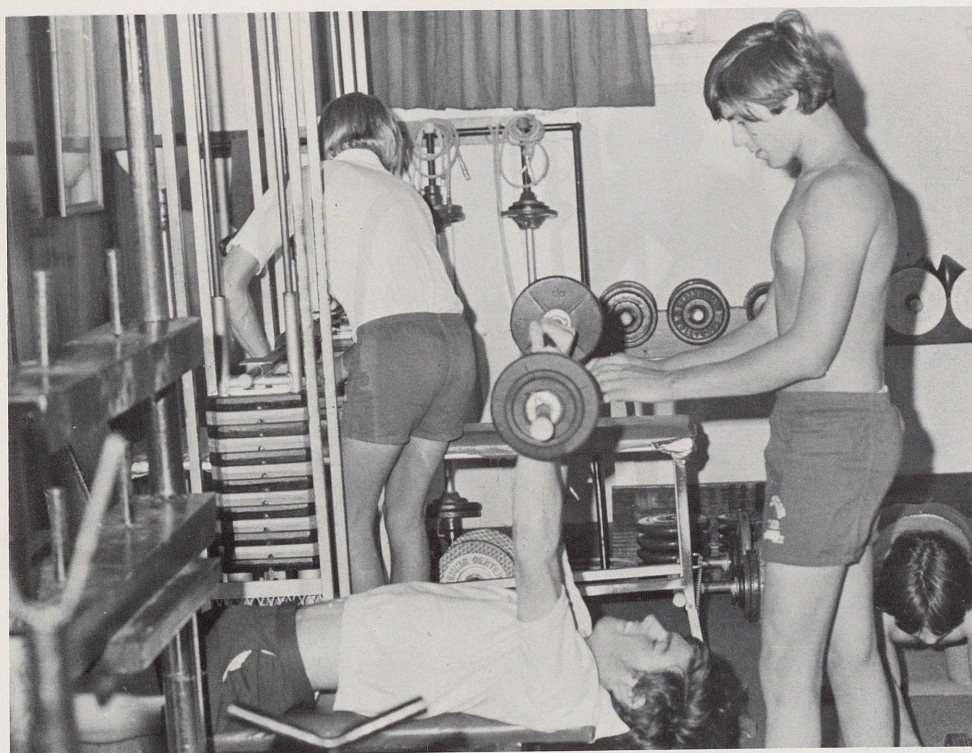

Brother Bennet spent much of the summer improving the weightroom. He re-modeled a room adjacent to the main facility and added two new machines. This increased the size of the complex by one-third and made it possible to expand the club by nearly twenty people.

The St. Stanislaus weightlifting team participated in the Southern A.A.U. Novice meet in New Orleans. Steve Treutel took first in the 132 lb. class. Bill Kergesien and Paul Treutel respectively copped 1st and 2nd in the 123 lb. class. Three new novice records were set in this meet by the team. In the Mississippi State Powerlift Meet Tommy Kidd took 3rd in his weight class and Steve and Paul Treutel won 2nd and 3rd in the 132 lb. class.

Mrs. Ryan Directs N.H.S.

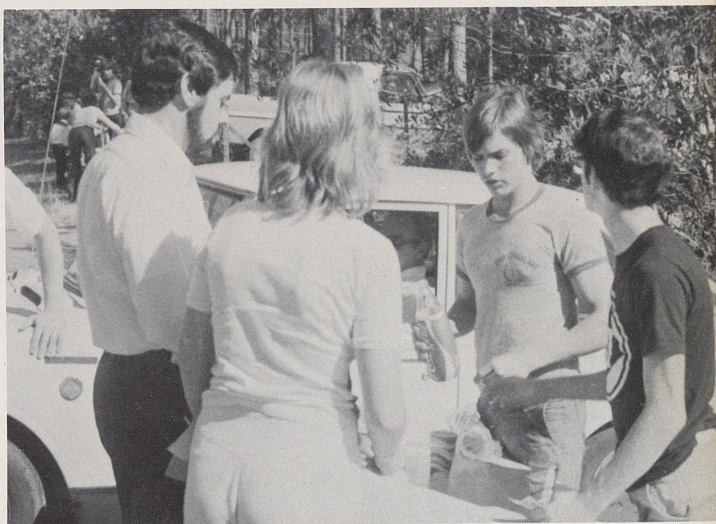

"I was very pleased with the National Honor Society. We really worked hard this year," said Mrs. Ryan when asked about her first year as N.H.S. moderator. This seemed to reflect the students' attitude toward the National Honor Society this year. Among other things, the N.H.S. wrote articles for the SEA COAST ECHO, served at the Hall of Fame banquet, sold cokes at the school play and Nereids Parade, and represented St. Stanislaus at the N.H.S. convention.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Jeannie Ryan, the National Honor Society sponsored and organized the seventh annual Honors and Leadership Convocation. Included in the ceremonies was the induction of new members, awards for academic achievements, and a superfluous keynote address by "Mr. Phil" Gugliozzo. Mr. Phil used gimmicks to bring out his ideas on self-worth and helping one another. In retrospect, 1977-78 was an extremely active year for the N.H.S.

Service Groups Help Needy

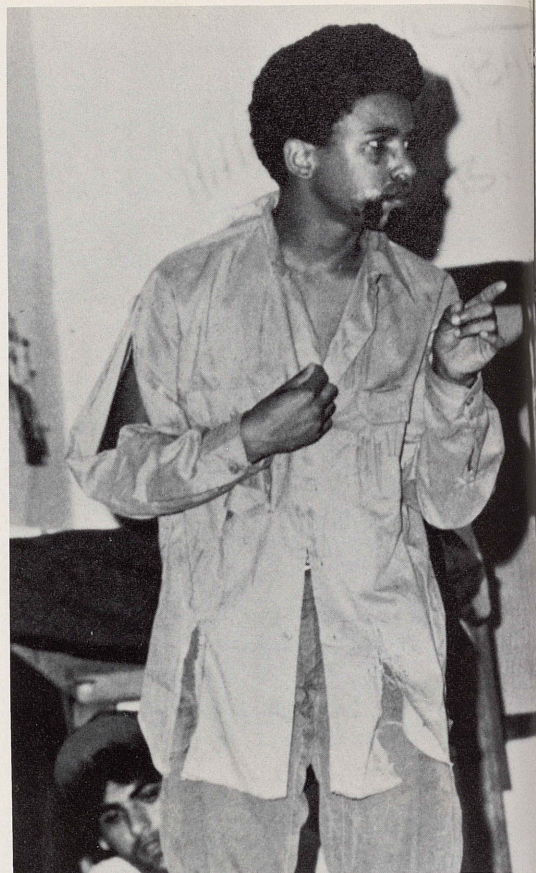

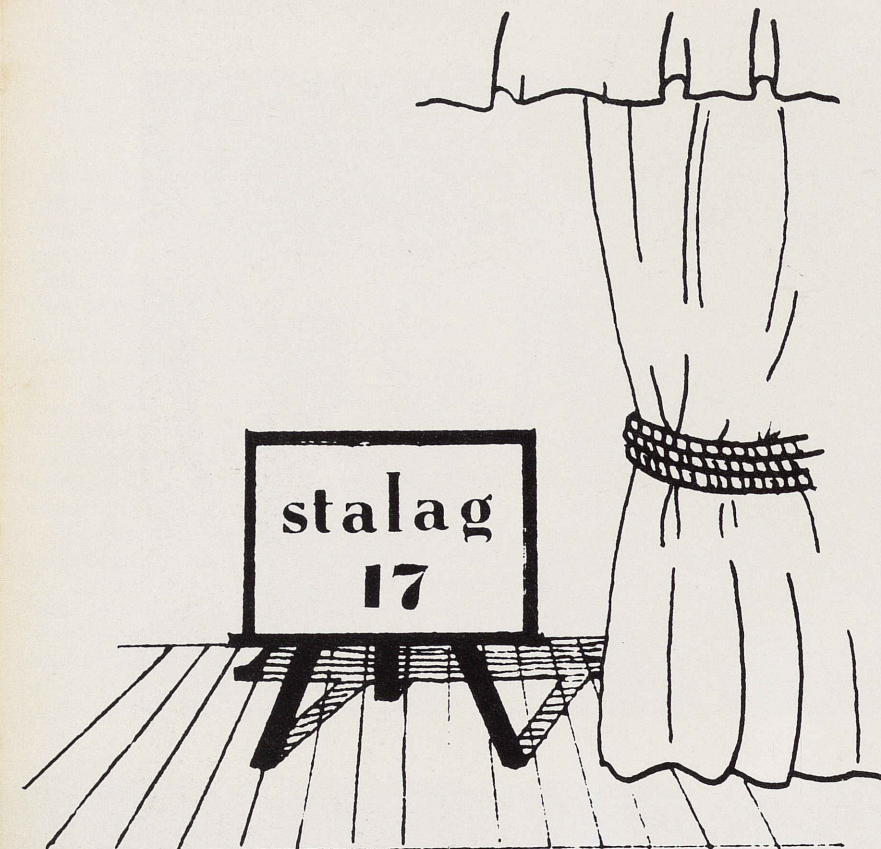

Seventy-two students worked with the young and elderly in the SSC Social Services Program. Members tutored at Bay Jr. High for special ed. classes, organized bingos for Gulf View Nursing Home, held picnics for Vietnamese children from New Orleans, and helped train kids for the Special Olympics. Students worked during their independent study periods and on weekends. Brother Canisius, moderator of the program, said, "The Social Service Program provides many opportunities for the student to put into practice the Christian training he has been given in the classroom."

The Confraternity is a second Rock-A-Chaw service group. Boys in this organization help the sick and needy by cutting grass and doing other jobs around the houses of people who are incapacitated. The director of the project, Brother Albert Guarino, states the group's purpose as, "helping individuals learn to reach out to others and do Christ's work."

Drama Returns to SSC

The SSC Drama Department, under the new leadership of Mrs. Cheryl Catalano and Mrs. Dot Kersanac, presented the first major performance at Stanislaus in three years. The play, Stalag 17, was a melodrama intended to entertain all kinds of people. Although it was a comedy, it portrayed real human qualities. The acting talents of Moe Hudson (Sefton) and Perry Elchos (Reed) and the wise-cracks of Mac Kersanac (Stosh) and John Wideman (Harry) made the play a big success with over 300 people at both performances filling their heads with a few laughs and thoughts.

With most of the costumes donated by fellow students and the sets and sound equipment given freely with the help of Brother Timothy, Mike Lyons, Mike McGuyer, Tim Creswell, and Brother Michael, the play took on a more realistic, and a "family-type" atmosphere. A party at the Pizza Inn brought STALAG 17 to a rousing end. The cast and crew had a great time with everyone going their own ways, looking forward to the next production.

Poole Pilots Even Season

Coach Poole inherited the head coaching reins and piloted the Rock-a-Chaw football team to a 5-5 season. Throughout the season Coach Poole challenged the fans at pep rallies to support the team at season games. The fans met the challenge with capacity crowds and outstanding enthusiasm at each ball game.

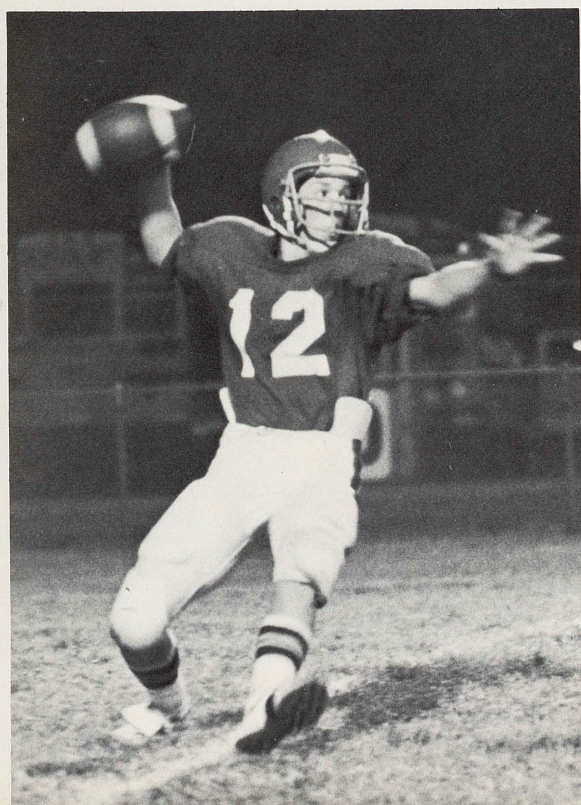

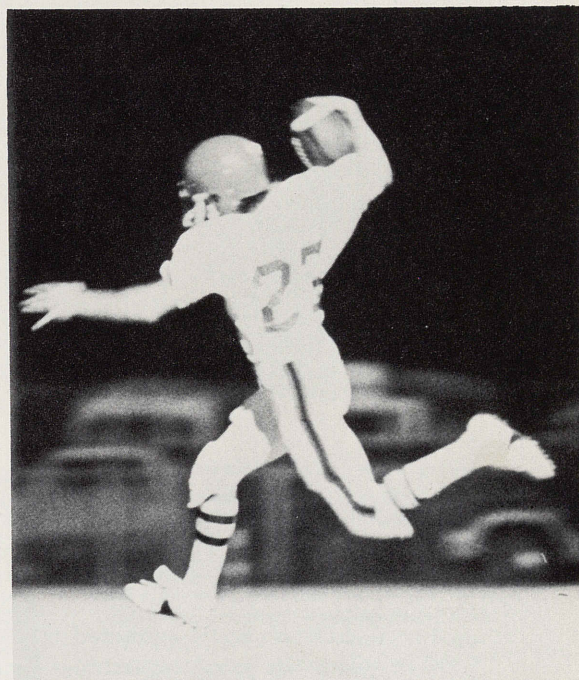

The team showed consistent effort in the first half of the season, recording 4 consecutive wins. After that, the going was rough. As defensive end Lenny Keel puts it, "The team had a lack of leadership in the second half of the season." The Rock-a-Chaws did post their second consecutive win over cross-town rival Bay High, 12-6.

At season's end Ricky Senner and Gene Hoda were named to the Pascagoula River Conference "all-conference" team. Coach Poole summed up his feelings after his first year as head coach saying, "I feel every individual learned much about the game; I'm looking forward to spring training and next year's season."

'78 Preparation Begins Early

Coach Poole gathered things together early this year in preparation for next year's football season. Coach Poole and assistant coaches Howard Patton, Mike Gemelli, and Rod Herring conducted weightlifting workouts and football strategy classes each day for one hour. The purpose of these sessions is to develop the talent demonstrated by the underclassmen during the past season.

Returning to the Rock-a-Chaw football team are offensive backs Greg Hammer, Peter Bernheim, and Bill Kerogsien while the line is anchored by returning lettermen Gene Rogers, Joey and Mike Cure, Daniel Handshoe, Glenn Logan, and Jamie McKeough.

Coaches expect much from freshmen Philip Lichtenstein, Scott Senner, and David Murtagh.

8th Grade Sports

Perfect Record

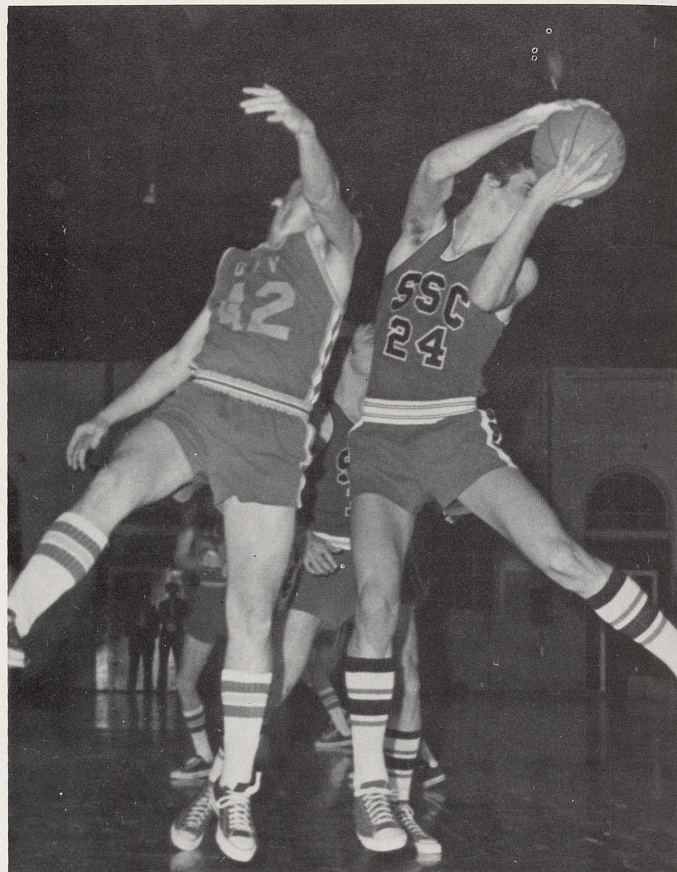

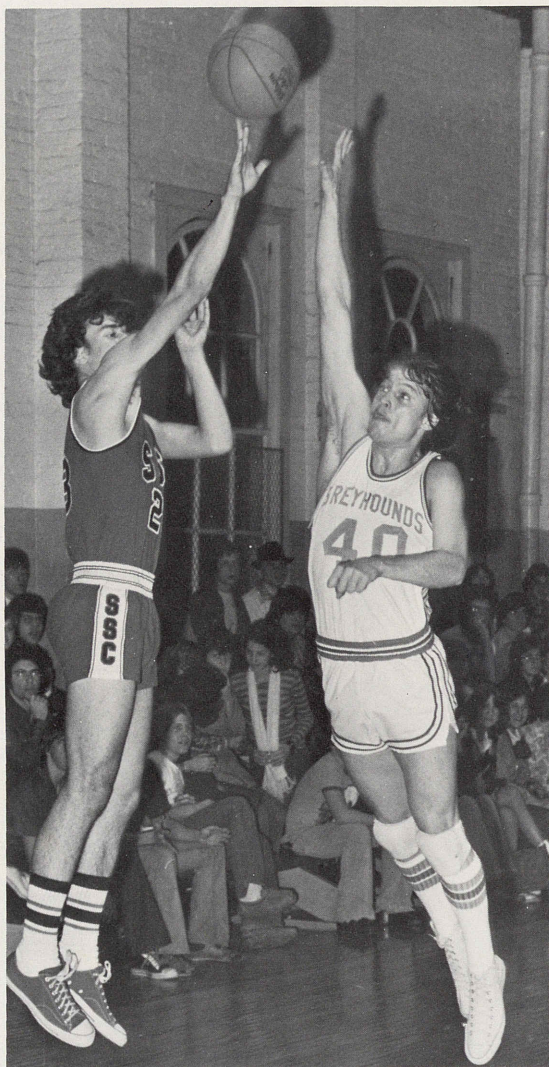

The 8th grade football team, under the direction of coaches Ron Engel and Bob Cucaro, turned in a perfect 5-0 season. Victories over Hancock North Central, St. Paul's, and C. B. Murphy gave Mr. Engel the best coaching percentage in the school as his teams completed a second undefeated season. Kenny Kopcsó was a stand-out on offense scoring eleven touchdowns in the four games he played. Chip Taylor anchored the line on both ends of the field and received the "most valuable defensive player award"

The freshman team ended the season with a 3-6 record. After a one-sided opening game victory over East Central, the 9th grade Rock-a-Chaws fell victim to inconsistent play. David Murtagh received the "most valuable offensive player" award for his pass catching efforts and Philip Lichtenstein copped "most valuable defensive player" for his bruising defense. The coaches named Ricky Fitch the "most spirited player."

P. Brown & Co. Retire Old Gym

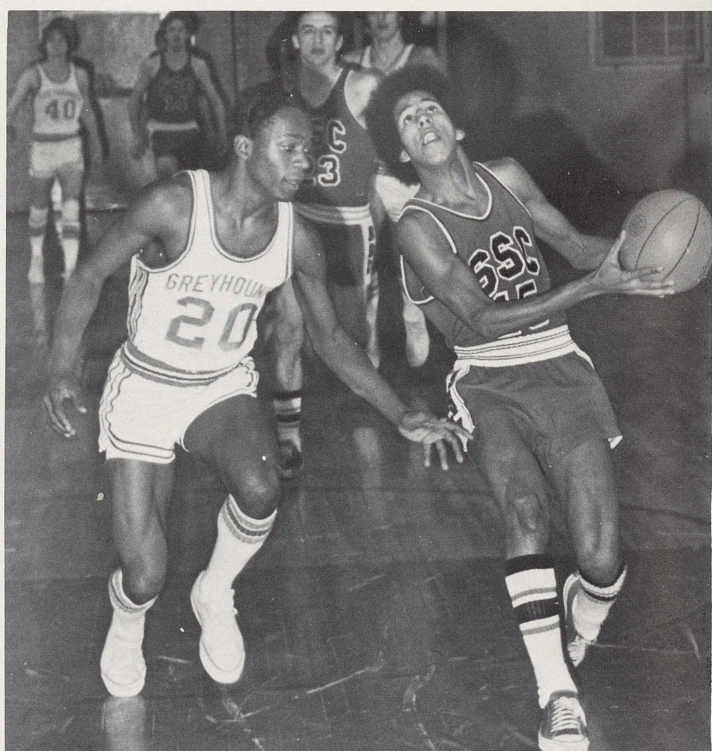

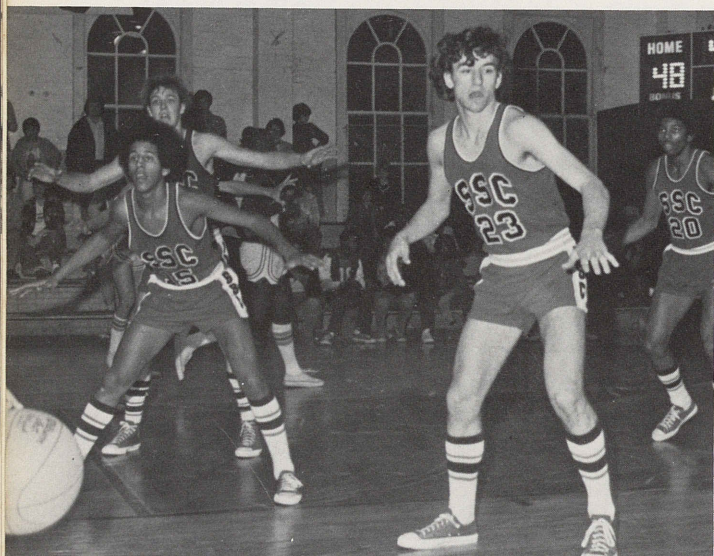

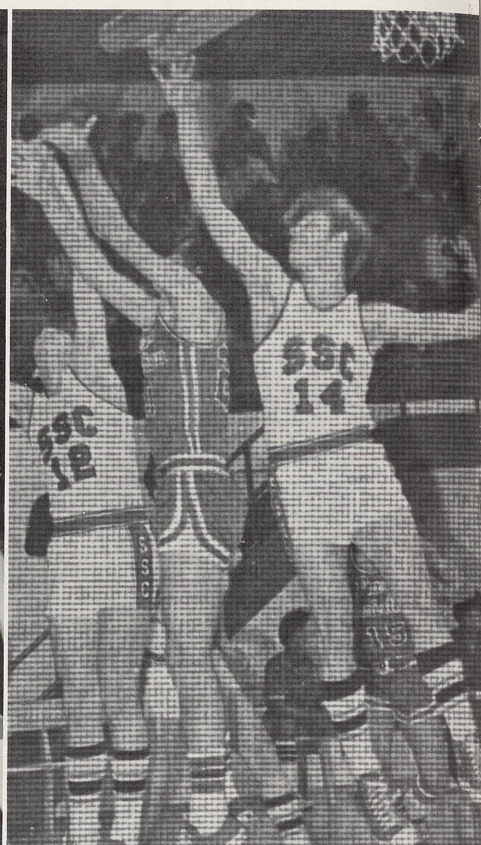

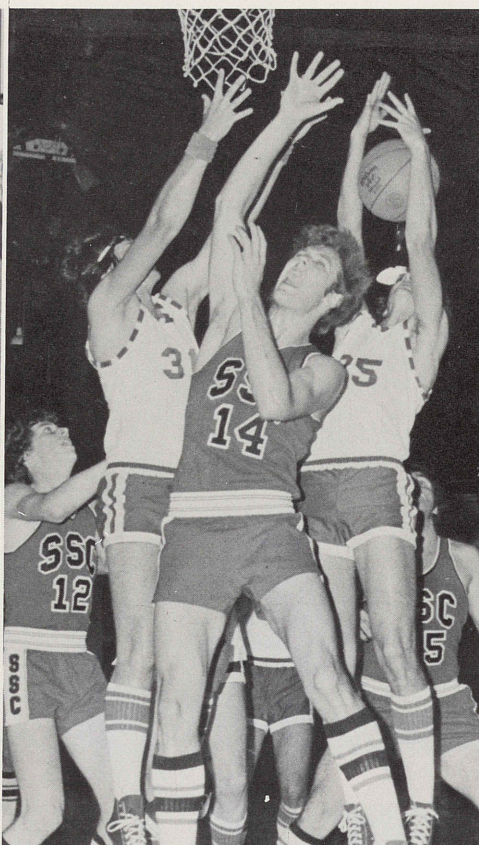

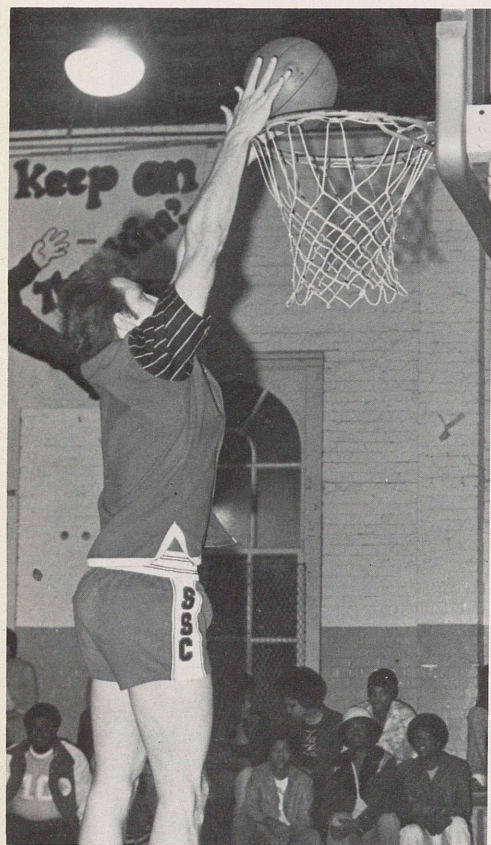

Playing their last season ever in the old gym, the 1977 Rock-a-Chaw roundballers ran up 19 victories against 7 losses, including a 69-48 win over East Central to retire the old enclosure.

Senior Paul Brown was a major factor in making the team what it was. "Brown is," Coach Cuccaro stated, "the only player to score over 1000 points and get over 1000 rebounds in a three year career." Paul scored 564 points for the season and 1119 points for his career. He snagged 463 rebounds for the season and 1045 during his career. Both rebounding statistics represent records. Brown was also selected to ALL-CONFERENCE and ALL-DISTRICT teams, and was named ALL-TOURNAMENT four times. He was elected team captain for the last two seasons.

The new gym, to be named the "Brother Peter Memorial," will be a drastic improvement over the old structure, according to Coach Cuccaro. He cited increased practice area, a larger seating capacity, and better locker room facilities as some of the more notable improvements.

Jr. High Records Winning Season

Brother Anton guided the 8th grade basketball team to a record-setting 9-1 season. After a one-point loss to St. John in the season opener, the team never broke stride. Long hours of practice led to a team unity which proved invaluable in the tiny Rocks' last two games. In both contests, the Rocks came from behind to nip Pass Christian and Pearl River Central at the final buzzer.

Averaging 38.2 points per game, the squad relied heavily upon the shooting of Marc Meyer (13.3 points per contest), as well as the strong rebounding of center Dave Boos and the outstanding defense of Brian Logan.

Ups and downs marked the 4-8 season of the 9th-grade basketball team. After an encouraging victory over St. John in the first game of the season, the Rocks fell victim to inconsistency and lack of experience. Starters included James Guillory, Eric Labat, Jeff Lynch, Kenny Montz, and Jeff Wallace, who was also the "most valuable player."

Thinclads Romp to PRC Title

St. Stanislaus won the Pascagoula River Conference Championship this year at D'Iberville Warrior Stadium. Team firsts were by the 880 and mile relay teams, and individual firsts were made by Chucky Vincent (high jump), Steve Longo (880 yd. run), Martin Hoda (220 yd. dash), and Paul Brown in the 440 yd. dash, 120 yd. high hurdles and mile relay.

The Rock-a-Chaws qualified Tommy Lotz and Newton Durabb in the mile run, and an 880, 440, and a mile relay team in District finals at Moss Point.

Shining lights were reflected in leadership this year. The seniors had valuable goals and outstanding results. Steve Longo ran the 880 yd. run, Martin Hoda the 220 and 100 yd. dashes; Gene Hoda ran the mile, 440, and 880 yd. relay and M.V.P., Paul Brown competed in the high jump, long jump, 440 yd. dash and mile relay; he also broke a school record in the 120 yd. high hurdles. The senior accomplishments are goals for future Stanislaus teams.

Jr. High Track Places Third

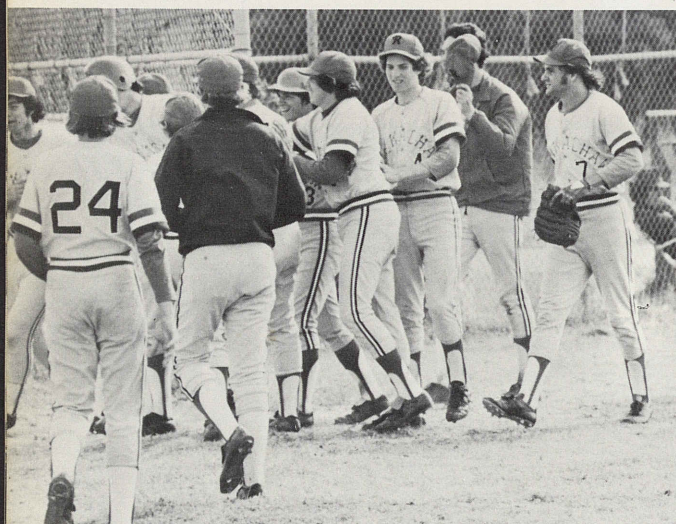

Coach Engel guided the junior high track team through a re-building season to a third place finish in the Pascagoula River Conference. With only a few freshmen on the team, Coach Engel relied heavily on 8th grade students in key positions.

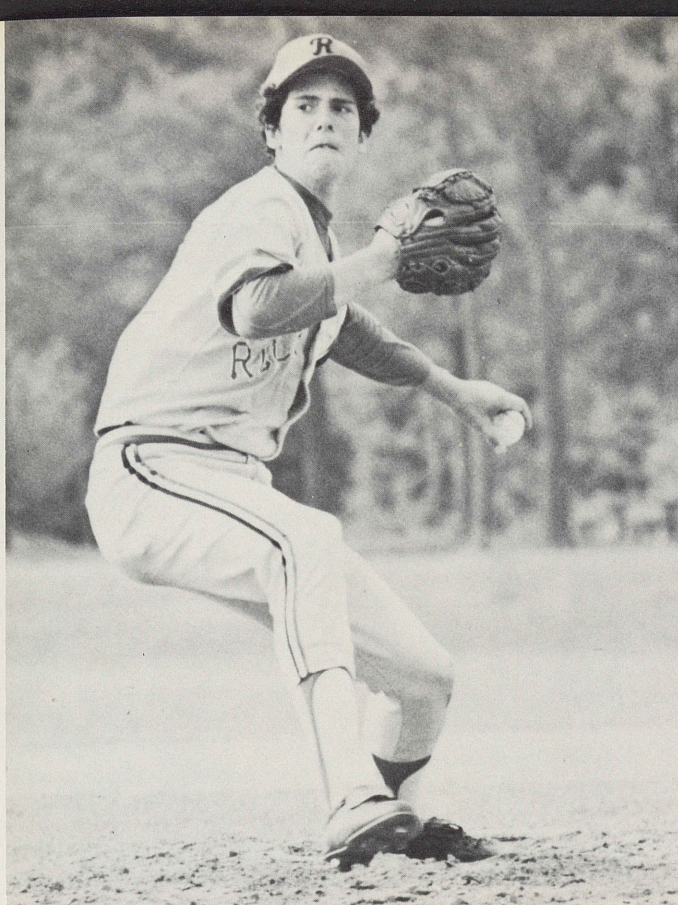

Freshman Keith Pfister anchored the young team turning in consistent performances throughout the season in the 100 and 220 yd. dashes and the relays. Moreover, Keith set a new school record of 19 ft. 4 in. in the long jump. Jeff Wallace set the other new record running a 16.5 in the low hurdles. For these efforts Keith and Jeff received "most valuable event" awards.

Juan Betanzos and Kenny Kopcsó, both 8th graders, were a vital part of the 440 and 880 relay teams. Kenny also ran the quarter mile. His efforts culminated in a first place finish in the conference tournament. At season's end Pfister and Kopcsó shared "most valuable player" honors, while Betanzos merited the "most improved player" award.

Basemen Turn in 11-13 Season

Although the baseball team posted an 11-13 record, the season did have many bright spots. Freshman Scott Cox won 7 games while losing 4, the best record on the team; for his efforts Scott received the "most valuable player" award. Senior Mark McCarthy displayed consistent hitting during the season finishing with an over-all .329 batting average and the batting trophy. Donald Corr exhibited tremendous versatility in the field; he played every position during the season except second base. Donald merited the "glove award" for this effort. The "hustle award" went to sophomore Scooter Cart. Coach Fred Weems complimented Scooter saying, "He showed a great amount of team spirit and pride. He never stopped trying to improve himself." This year's pitching staff consisted of 3 sophomores, 2 freshmen and 1 eighth grader. Coach Weems hopes the experience they got during the season plus summer baseball will aid in their maturity for the '78 season.

B-Team Gains Game Experience

Coach Weems and Brother Anton practiced B baseball team with the varsity. The B-team played games before the varsity contests; the length of these games varied anywhere from 2 to 5 innings. Coach Weems cited several advantages to running a B-team at Stanislaus. "This year we were able to keep six freshmen and one eighth grader on the team. The shortened B games enabled these young players to gain playing experience." The B-team finished with an over-all record of 5 wins, 5 losses, and 2 ties.

The varsity and B-team worked together to keep the field in good playing shape, as well as to improve their batting and fielding skills. Perre Cabell commented, "I enjoyed working with the varsity because the older kids on the team helped me improve. I liked the competition and the team spirit, but most of all I liked getting out of school early on the days of the games." Next year Coach Weems hopes to expand the B-team making room for more eighth graders on the team.

Netmen Record

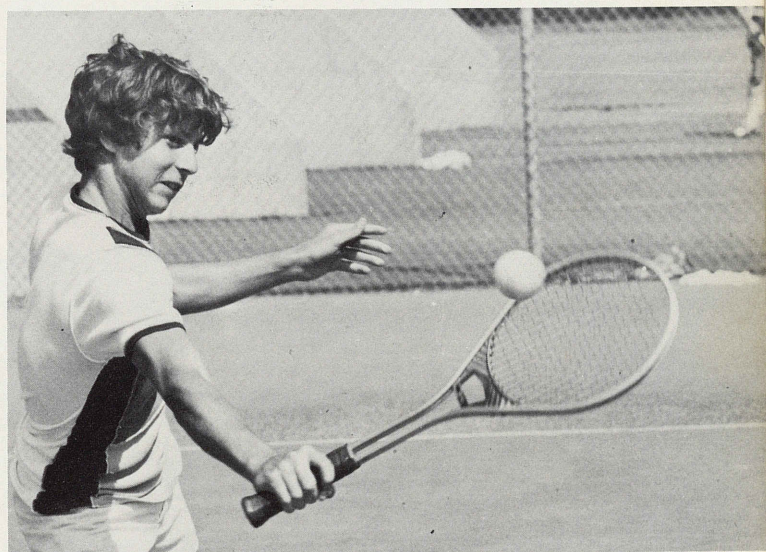

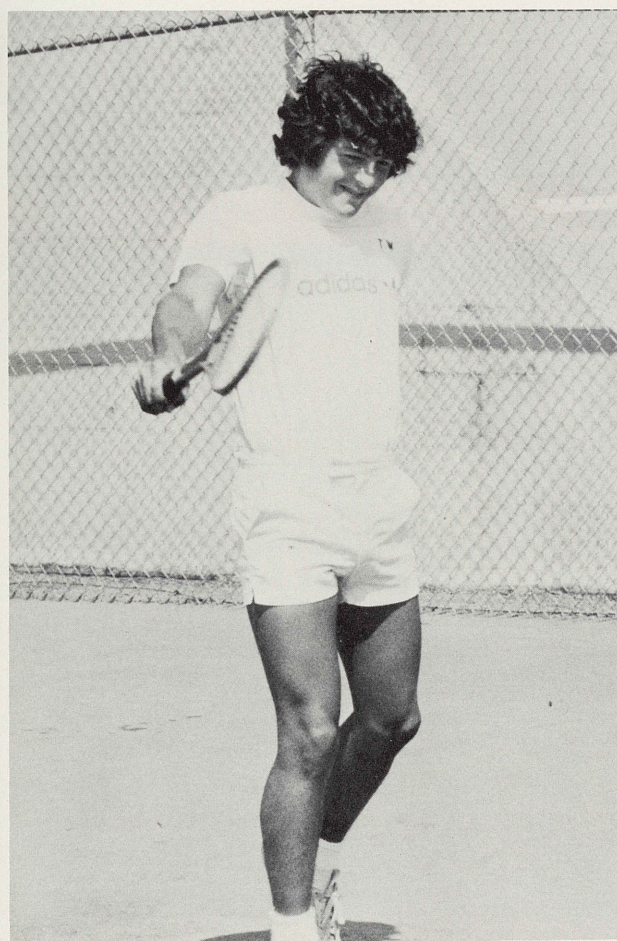

11-0 Record

The varsity tennis team finished the year recording its third consecutive undefeated season, (11-0). Brother Paul, varsity coach, cited this year's team for, "the spirit displayed in matches," and "the competition generated in practice."

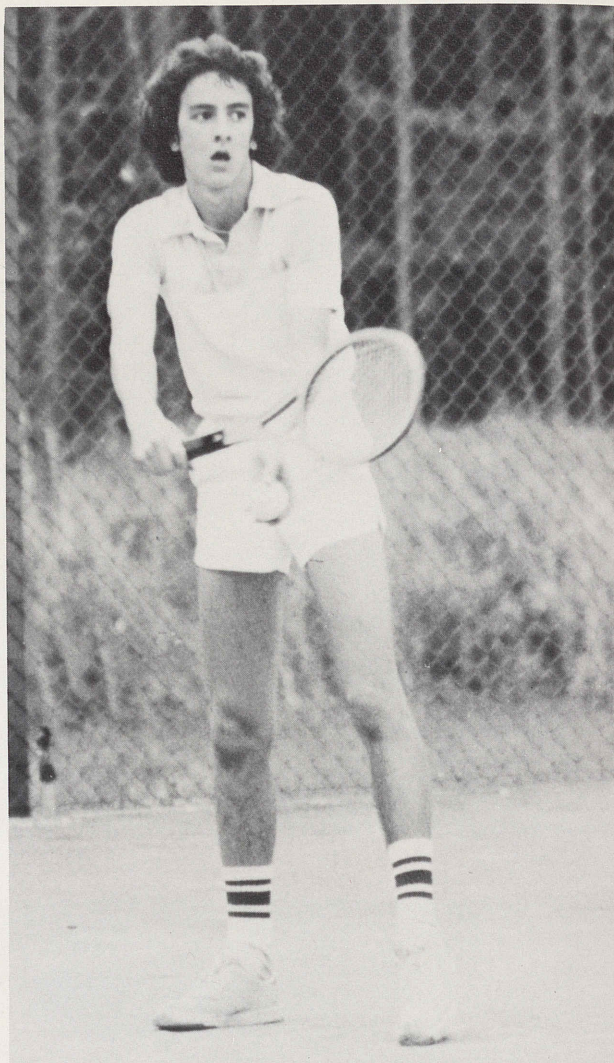

Sophomore Tommy Wild played number one singles all year, recording an over-all record of 8-5. Grant Chandler and Ryan Cheramie held down the A-Team doubles position for over half the season, recording a 4-4 record. Philip Schmidt and Edgar Santa Cruz won the A-Team doubles position in challenge matches and went on to finish the season 5-1. Pat Wild, playing second singles, posted a perfect record, 8-0.

The top four players on this year's A-Team will be returning next season. Brother Paul hopes the experience they gained over the long season will aid them in challenging for District honors in '78.

Tennis Craze Sweeps Campus

Tennis fever is running rampant around the SSC campus. By 3:15 every afternoon, the backcourts are filled with racket-swinging forms. Those who can't get a court hit the ball against the handball walls and wait. Motivation differs with each player. Some want to improve their game; others are out to defeat Brother Lee for a holiday; many just want to get some exercise under the sun. Whatever the reason, regular "tennis hacks" come out in droves with enthusiasm which is rarely matched.

Brother Paul and Brother Pascal continually scout the courts for future players for the tennis team. Frequently they stop to offer suggestions and give pointers to the young players. Their patience and concern account for the many fine up-and-coming tennis players, and the continued success of the tennis team. Stanislaus has not lost a regular season match in the past three seasons, and the young talent coming up through the ranks gives reason for optimism for the future. The tennis craze gives all indications of being here to stay!

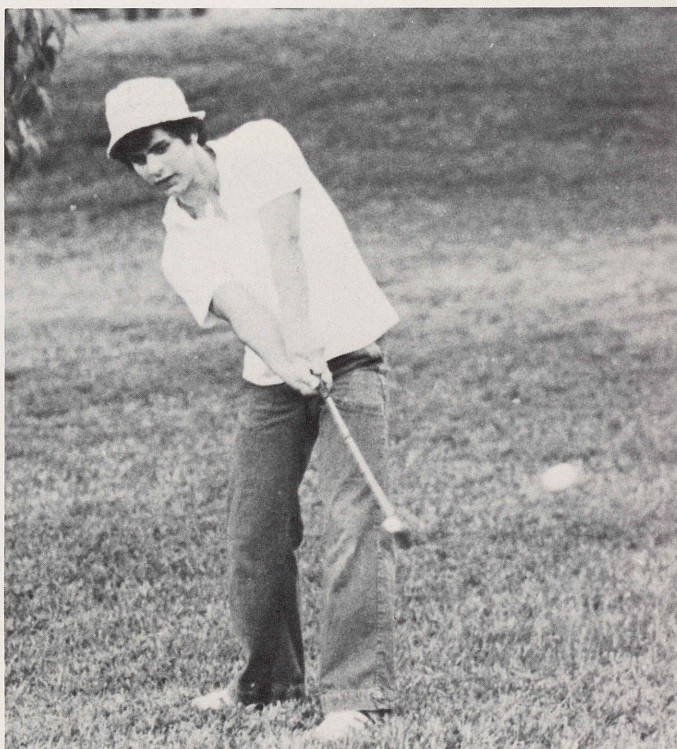

Rain Shortens Golf Season

Rainy and windy weather shortened the golf season to just two matches. The team did play in two tournaments, but failed to place in either. Kelly Geroux played the most consistent golf over the season for the Rock-a-Chaws and shot the best score in both the Diamond-head Tournament and the Ocean Springs' Tournament.

Although the team experienced much frustration at the cancellation of practice and matches, the students enjoyed playing when they did. Of the nine members of the golf team, six were underclassmen. Tony Fasullo summed up their feelings when he said, "With some good luck and good weather for a change, we could play much better golf for the '78 season."

Class Contests Spark Rivalries

The intramurals league at SSC occupied many students' afternoons throughout the year. Whether representing their class in sports competition or merely coming to watch the action, many students were drawn to the backfield area by the class competition; many homeroom rivalries sprang up as a result. The sports action was seasonal, beginning with football, shifting to basketball, then turning to volleyball.

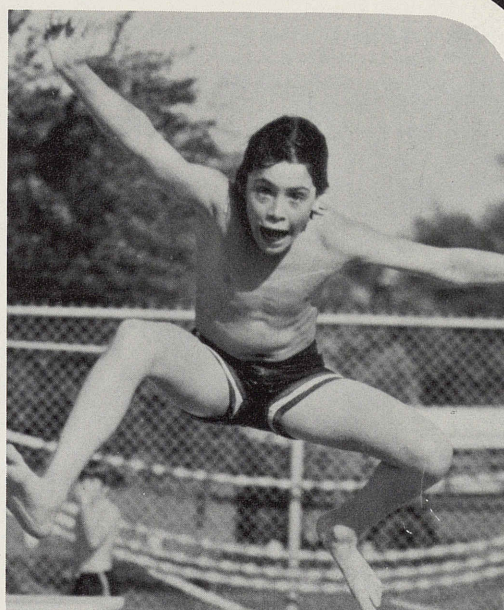

Winners in the senior-junior division were: football, 12-220; basketball, 12-220; volleyball, 11-225. Victors in the sophomore-freshman division were: football, 10-208; basketball, 10-208; volleyball, 9-226.

Spring Fever at SSC . . .

Spring at Stanislaus offers something for everyone . . . water, swimming, skiing, "horsefights" in the pool, sunning on the beach, throwing frisbees, campouts, girls, winning money at the fair, daydreaming, jumping bicycles in the backfield, anticipating the end of school and the summer months ahead . . .

EPILOGUE

The year ended much as it began . . . with smiles and handshakes, suitcases and Greyhound buses, happy parents and happier students . . . The uniqueness of '77 now becomes part of the tradition of '78. Students returning in August will find new faces with fresh ideas as the Stanislaus carousel turns its 124th revolution.

THOUGHTS

The making of REFLECTIONS '77 was a classic, year-long effort. The staff came together in September with 20 new members, a new editor, and a new advisor. Inexperience initially made the task look gargantuan, but as the year progressed, staff members became familiar with yearbook terminology and adept at technical yearbook skills. Gradually the task became surmountable, and REFLECTIONS '77 took shape. The pages preceeding this represent the unified efforts of 30 staff members.

We would like to recognize the supportive efforts of several "special" people by saying thanks . . .

- to Brother Albert Ledet for his talent and time in lettering the theme section of the book . . .
- to Brother Timothy for his help in the cover design . . .
- to Andre Rosselot and Gary Castille for their drawings throughout the book . . .
- to the English students of room 9-224 for their help with the research and writing of much of the copy . . .
- and finally to all the students and faculty of St. Stanislaus! Your spirit and enthusiasm throughout the year made our task easier and our effort worthwhile.
